THE TEACHER BECOMES SUCH A PERSON

01

Thanks to teachers, students have the opportunity to open new horizons and unlock their potential. Our teachers are the ones who inspire their students to perform better and assist them in accomplishing their goals, force them to ask questions, find their passion and overcome obstacles.

03

Teachers contribute to the development of social skills by teaching students cooperation, communication and conflict resolution, thanks to group tasks, children learn to work in a team, someone can reveal leadership qualities in themselves, and someone else skills of public speaking.

02

Thanks to the teacher we often choose the area in which we want to develop further, because if the teacher explains in an accessible way, barks topics understandable and really love the subject, the student wants to thank the teacher, may be, wants to become like him. Therefore a child starts to learn this subject, he delves into the topics and as a result acquires a new passion.

So, we understand that a good teacher is the key to success

Throughout my life I have been thinking about:

- Who I want to become?
- What is interesting to me?
- And who am I anyway?
